“Holding Forth the Word of Life”

August 2010

THE NEED TO READ

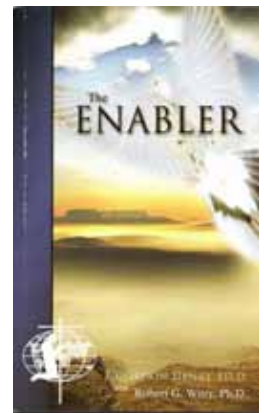

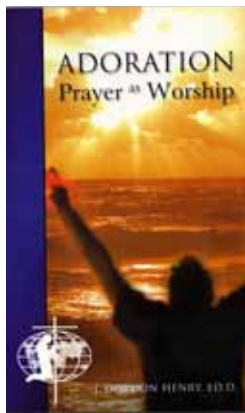

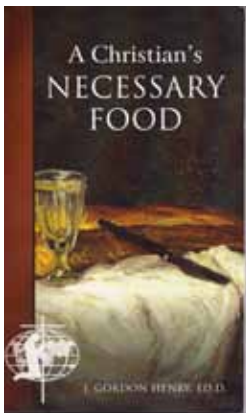

From his cold, damp, dark prison cell (actually, a dungeon as those who have traveled with us to Rome will remember), Paul wrote to Timothy, his young comrade, in what was his last epistle. As he closed his letter (2 Timothy 4:9-18), he explained his situation awaiting imminent execution by Nero --“the time of my departure is at hand” (v 6)--and urged Timothy to be diligent to come quickly (v 9). He asked him to bring Mark, his coat, and his books (v 13); he wanted to be warm and he wanted to read.

For as long as I can remember, books have held a fascination for me. My sister, Pansy, understood this and saw that I had a book for my birthday and for Christmas gifts which I cherished. She gave me my first Bible.

My mom was a reader. Often, when she did not have a crochet needle and thread in her hands, she had something to read. She subscribed to the Knoxville (TN) Journal, which I devoured each day as soon as I returned home from school.

As a high school freshman, Miss Akard Spurgeon, librarian for White Pine High School, asked me to be her assistant. Since the library was being moved from another building, there was plenty of work to do. I spent hours each week working in the library. She even entrusted me with keys to the building and to the library so I could work during school breaks and the summers. I read many books. Being in the library was a favorite activity. Since the English and history teachers required reports to be written, I often incorporated things I had learned in my reading. Both teachers encouraged me in this approach. Although I had never traveled physically out of East Tennessee, through my reading I traveled around the world.

One Christmas break, a new book had come to the library and was ready to be processed Jessie Stuart's A Thread that Runs so True. Once I started reading it, I could not put it down. It was then that I understand the joy and the importance of teaching.

For decades, I have built "My Library." When I moved to new positions, I felt at home in my new office when my "old friends" were on the shelves. We are in the process of cataloguing this library using the Dewey Decimal System of Classification. Hopefully, one day it can be given to an English-speaking Bible college somewhere in Africa

"Reading is to the mind what exercise is to the body."
Sir Richard Steele

I firmly believe that my readiness for a rigorous, demanding education at Berea College (KY) was greatly enhanced by reading books in high school that stretched my mental capabilities. Before I matriculated in college, I already knew how to think critically, in terms of abstract ideas, objective truth, and sustained reflection.

My good friend and professional colleague, Dr. Henry M. Morris (1918-2006), who has been termed "the father of modern creationism" was a prolific writer. He published his first Christian book in 1946, That You Might Believe. He and Dr. John Whitcomb wrote The Genesis Flood in 1961. This book catalyzed the modern revival of creationism, leading to a proliferation of other creationist books and ministries around the world. Dr. Morris said that after writing this book, that writing become sort of an "occupational hazard" and he had averaged about a book a year since catching it.

Dr. Henry Morris
(1918-2006)

When we traveled together for the Transnational Association of Christian Colleges and Schools (TRACS), between flights he would sit down, get his pad out, and start writing, an image that I will never forget. I have sought to emulate his work-ethic. When he wrote The Defender's Study Bible with extensive footnotes and appendices especially written for the purpose of defending and expounding literal biblical Christianity, he asked me to edit the notes. Many of his books have been classics.

Following the publication of a new book, Dr. Morris always sent Sue and me an autographed copy. In early December 2004, his book entitled For Time and Forever (God's Wonderful Plan) arrived with the following inscription: "Best wishes and regards in Christ to Sue and Gordon Henry. Henry M. Morris 12-3-2004 Ephesians 3:20-21." This is one book I keep close-by and often renew my spirit by reading his marvelous insights. Chapter 3 is entitled "The Need to Read" (pages 42-52). Be sure to read his thoughts on "God's Library in Heaven" in this month's PERSPECTIVES.

During 1978-79, I wrote the PRAYER SEMINAR WORKBOOK that soon became the basic teaching tool in the prayer seminar ministry. Over the years, I saw the need to delve more deeply into different areas that I was teaching. For example, I became convinced that every believer should master John 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and said so in the seminar. Finally, the Holy Spirit impressed upon me the thought: “If that is true, you should write a book on the Upper Room Discourse.” I obeyed and it is my favorite of the books that I have authored.

For the August issue of the Reflector, I want to introduce my books. Most of the books are laid out in lessons that can be taught in a three-month study in Sunday school or in other groups. My style of writing is basically devotional in nature, designed to draw the reader closer to the Lord Jesus Christ and to the Father. We do not “sell” the books, but we indicate a “suggested contribution” that will cover printing costs. The books are written between the 8th grade 10th grade reading level (according to a test applied by Dr. James Hengoed, a former teacher at Harvard). Since we have kept a careful inventory record, we know how many books have been disseminated. It is amazing to know that in many places throughout the world, folks have one or more of my books in their libraries.

When I was doing the field research for my doctoral dissertation (Child-Rearing in the Appalachian Mountains), my subjects were from homes selected at random with young children with one six-year old. At that time, I found many homes where the children had never held a book in their hands.

Although the pressure of the times will fight against you, turn off the television and the computer and hold a Christian book in your hands. Begin to read. Concentrate on the thoughts laid out on a page. It will not be long until you see the value of reading. DON'T FORGET THE BIBLE! Use the enclosed envelope to order.

Perspectives

God's Library in Heaven

Henry M. Morris (1918-2006)

I believe that God must also have a library or at least some system that serves the purpose of a library. There are many, many books there, and the number is constantly increasing. Christ Himself is called “the Word,” with the specific purposing of “declaring” God's nature and purpose to man (John 1:1, 15, 18)

The core of God's library is, of course, the Word as declared in written form by the Living Word to holy men of old through the Holy Spirit. We call this the 66 “books” of the Bible [a word which means “Book”], and God has assured us that this part of His library was established before He created the world. “For ever, O Lord, Thy Word is settled in heaven” (Ps 119:89).

The books of the New Testament were then “revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit” (Ephesians 3:5), one by one, until the last book was inscribed by the last living apostle. When John finished writing down the book entitled “The Revelation of Jesus Christ” (Revelation 1:1), he signaled that the written word from heaven was now complete on earth with a sober warning neither to “add unto these things” nor to “take away from the words of the book of this prophecy” (Revelation 22:18-19).

[In addition to the Old Testament and the New Testament books], there are other books [in heaven] possibly a separate book recording the details of the life of each individual who has ever lived. When believers meet Christ at His judgment seat, there will be rewards assigned (or loss of rewards) “according to that which he hath done, whether it be good or bad,” (1 Corinthians 3:11-15; 2 Corinthians 5:10). “The fire shall try every man's work [according to] what sort it is” (1 Corinthians 3:13). Perhaps the fire will burn up those portions of his “book” that are “bad,” leaving only the “good” on his permanent record.

When unbelievers later go before God’s great judgment throne, John said, “I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life; and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works” (Revelation 20:12).

These books evidently list all the “works” of each person, but since no one has kept all God’s commands, therefore, no one will be saved by his works (James 2:10; Romans 3:10, 20, 23). So the Judge will then turn to His “book of life,” in which is inscribed all the names of those redeemed by faith in the shed blood of the Lamb of God, the Lord Jesus Christ (1 Peter 1:18-21, Revelation 13:8). “And whosever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire” (Revelation 20:15).

There is yet another very special book in God’s library. “Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another; and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name” (Malachi 3:16).

This little insight into the personal library of God was given in connection with the band of Israelites who had returned from exile in Babylon. It is reasonable to think, however, that God is keeping the same kind of book for every group of believers who fear the Lord, think often on His name, and speak frequently to one another about Him.

There could well be a special book written for each of His millions of disciples, describing all that their indwelling Lord accomplished through them as they studied and worked and witnessed in His name. Jesus had promised, when the Holy Spirit would come to “abide with you forever,” that “if a man love Me, He will keep My words; and My Father will love him, and We will come to Him, and make our abode with him” (John 14:16,23). The Lord Jesus thus is continuing to do and teach” through each of us, and all of these activities and their results could indeed be the subject of literally millions of “books that should be written” (John 21:25).

It seems clear that regardless of televisions, the Internet and other modern technologies for conveying information books will always be of primary importance in this component of the Dominion Mandate. So get in the habit of reading especially the Bible, as well as other good books expounding the Word of God, the world of God, and the works of God.

NOTE: I hope that you are challenged by this excerpt from Dr. Morris’ book, For Time and Forever, as I am.

The important thing is to be sure that your name is written in the Lamb’s Book of Life, one of the books in Heaven’s Library. The very moment that you trust Christ as your Savior, you have new life. Why? Your spirit comes alive; that which was dead to God because of Adam’s sin, is quickened by the indwelling of the Holy Spirit. You are placed into the body of Christ (1 Corinthians 12:13), and your name is in the Lamb’s Book of Life.

Yours in Calvary love,

J. Gordon Henry

“In Thy presence is fullness of joy”

Psalms 16:11.

The goal of prayer is the ear of God, a goal that can only be reached by patient and continued and continuous waiting upon Him, pouring out our heart to Him and permitting Him to speak to us. Only by so doing can we expect to know Him, and as we come to know Him better we shall spend more time in His presence and find that presence a constant and ever-increasing delight.

PRAYER IS THE WORK THAT MUST COME
BEFORE ALL OTHER WORK.
John 14:12-14

Charles Spurgeon understood this fact. He said: "Asking is the rule of the kingdom. It is a rule that will never be altered in anyone's case. If the royal and divine Son of God cannot be exempted from the rule, we cannot expect the rule to be relaxed in our favor either. God will send rain on Israel, but Elijah must pray for it. God will allow the chosen nation to prosper, but Samuel must plead for it. If the Jews are to be delivered, Daniel has to intercede. Gentiles shall be converted through Paul, but he must pray. And pray he did, without ceasing, for his epistles show that Paul expected nothing except by asking for it."

When the leaders of the Venezuela Baptist Convention envisioned a concerted effort to evangelize four of their western states, they concluded that prayer work must provide the foundation for the effort. They further realized that this would likely not happen until believers understand the purpose and power of prayer. Consequently, prayer seminars were provided in major cities with 1,600 in attendance (140 pastors, PHASE TWO is scheduled for July 31-August 9 when 500 pastors are expected at Camp Carabobo (130 miles west of Caracas). Dr. Henry will teach the prayer seminar and an evangelism clinic. Then will come PHASE THREE, pastors going into the four states to evangelize.

Not only is prayer support needed for the July 31-August 9 ministry, but for the two weeks of evangelism that follows. If you have a prayer list, be sure that Venezuela is included for daily intercession during this significant period. During the month of August, keep Venezuela in your daily prayers.

The knots of prayer

DEAR GOD, please untie the knots that are in my mind. Remove the have nots, the can nots and the do nots that I have in my mind. Erase the will nots, may nots, might nots that may find a home in my heart. Release me from the could nots, would nots, and should nots that obstruct my life. And most of all, dear God, I ask that you remove from my mind, my heart, and my life all of the "am nots" that I have allowed to hold me back, especially the thought that I am not good enough. [In Jesus' name] Amen.

The morning watch

The morning watch is essential. You must not face the day until you have faced God, nor look into the face of others before you have looked into His.

You cannot expect to be victorious when the day begins only in your own strength. When you face the day under the influence of time spent with God, it will make a difference throughout the day.

“Be ready in the morning, and come up . . . present yourself to Me there on the top of the mountain. No one is to come with you” (Exodus 34:2-3a). Meet Him alone regularly with His Word open before you. Horatius Bonar captured the essence of the morning watch when he wrote:

Begin the day with God!

He is thy Sun and Day!
His is the radiance of thy dawn;
To Him address thy day.

Sing a new song at morn!

Join the glad woods and hills;
Join the fresh winds and seas and plains,
Join the flowers and rills.

Sing thy first song to God!

Not to thy fellow men;
Not to the creatures of His hand,
But to the glorious One.

Take thy first walk with God!

Let Him go forth with thee;
By stream, or sea, or mountain path,
Seek still His company.

Thy first transaction be

With God Himself alone;
So shall thy business prosper well,
All the day be love.

NOTES from my BIBLE

Note 1181. How you handle your problems by day determines how you sleep at night.

Note 1182. His heart is not pure whose tongue is not clean.

Note 1183. When your temper gets the best of you, it reveals the worst of you.

Note 1184. Nagging hinders communication more than it helps.

Note 1185. God does not listen to our prayers if we intend to go back to our sin as soon as we get off our knees (Prov 28:9).

Make our hearts pure

A few Sundays ago, the morning worship service in our church included a congregational hymn whose words were written by Micah Pick, our Minister of Music. The melody used was familiar to all of us, "Rock of Ages, Clift for Me." As I thought through the words Micah had written, my heart was warmed as I received them as a clear message from the Lord. I encourage you to use them in your church. Actually, I have one word of advice add "Selah" at the end of each stanza to remind you to pause and think on these things.

King of Glory, King of Grace,
We long to see Your holy face,
But our hearts are so impure
We come to You, for the cure.
Make our hearts pure with Christ's blood
So that we can see our God

Break our hearts and make us meek
So You alone our hearts will seek;
Your kingdom first, all else is waste
Longing only for Your face.
Make our hearts pure with Christ's blood
So that we can see our God

On our own we cannot come
Your holiness would strike us down;
But with Christ as great High Priest
We come before the throne of Grace.
Make our hearts pure with Christ's blood
So that we can see our God

--Micah Pick

To pray is to let Jesus into our lives. He knocks and seeks admittance, not only in the solemn hours of secret prayer. He knocks in the midst of your daily work, your daily struggles, your daily "grind." That is when you need Him most.

O. Hallsby

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

"Thy Word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart" (Jeremiah 15:16)

If we wish to pray with confidence and gladness, then the words of Holy Scripture will have to be the solid basis of our prayer. For here we know that Jesus Christ, the Word of God, teaches us to pray. The words that come from God become, then, the step on which we find our way to God.

D. Bonhoffer

"Ye shall . . . find Me, when ye shall search for Me with all your heart" (Jeremiah 29:13).

It is only when the whole heart is gripped with the passion of prayer that the life-giving fire descends, for none but the earnest man gets access to the ear of God.

E. M. Bounds

"I sought Him whom my soul loveth."
(Song of Solomon 3:1).

It is blessed to know of a place where we can lay our tired head and heart, our heavenly Father's arms, and say to Him, "I can do no more. And I have nothing to tell you. May I lie here a while and rest? Everything will soon be well again if I can only rest in your arms a while."

John Wesley's Prayer

Lord, I am no longer my own, but Yours. Put me to what You will, rank me with whom You will. Let me be employed by You or laid aside for You, exalted for You or brought low by You. Let me have all things, let me have nothing; I freely and heartily yield all things to Your pleasure and disposal. And now, O glorious and blessed God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, You are mine and I am Yours. So be it. Amen.

Extended Ministry

The print and tape ministry provides an opportunity for individuals to study on their own or in small groups either as review or to further their knowledge and understanding of the essentials of the Christian faith: Bible study, prayer, witnessing, stewardship, and walking in the Spirit as a lifestyle.

Our policy, from the beginning of our ministry in 1980, has been not to sell materials, but to depend on contributions. JGHM purchases the material out of our general fund using contributions made to the prayer seminary ministry as love offerings or offerings from materials. We have kept a careful inventory of materials used and number of contributions. Most people make contributions, but some use materials who either do not or cannot make a contribution. Our goal is to provide help to strengthen each person who is in a seminar.

Small Group Study Lithonia, Georgia

Dear Dr. Henry,

I recently ordered the Prayer Seminar DVD and ten workbooks. I can tell you that the prayer seminar is a blessing to our Bible study. We find ourselves discussing the lesson and lose track of time because your teaching is so rich and Bible based. Thank you for allowing the Holy Spirit to teach you with the prayer seminar teaching.

Yours in Christ,
Roscoe Richmond

ENVELOPE FOR ORDERS.

A period of deception

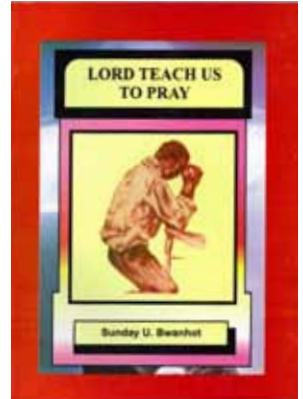

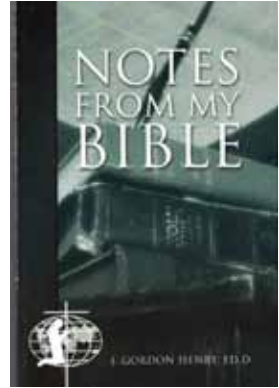

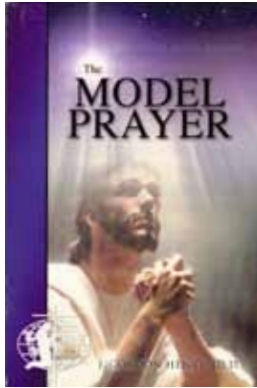

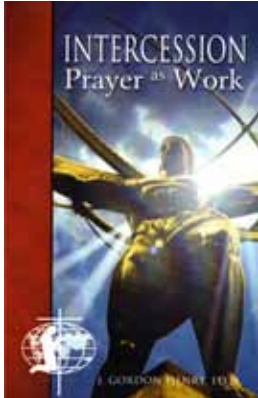

We are living in the worst period of deception in history. Satan is the master deceiver, disguised as an angel of Light. He specializes in simulation. The sin against the Holy Spirit was attributing the work of God to the devil. We are seeing today the work of the devil attributed to God.

I am more afraid of false revival than of no revival a false revival with a false gospel, false evangelists, false converts, false joy. It will seem so genuine that it would deceive, if possible, the very elect. Many church leaders will endorse it. Other good people will be afraid to oppose it for fear that they might be fighting against God.
